Rebecca A. Morrison House celebrates

National Hospital Hospitality House week July 18 - 24

(July 15, 2010) – Having a loved one nearby when you're ill can be as powerful to the healing process as any of today's advancements in medicine. In recognition of this the National Association of Hospital Hospitality Houses (NAHHH) has designated the week of July 18 – 24 as National Hospital Hospitality House Week. The Rebecca A. Morrison House at Salina Regional Health Center, 513 S. Eighth Street, is a member of the NAHHH.

Since the Morrison House was first established in 1993, it has served more than 15,000 guests from 400 Kansas communities, 48 states and 16 foreign countries. The longest continuous stay for a guest at the Morrison House has been 154 days.

As a home away from home for people from outside Salina with loved ones who are inpatients at Salina Regional Health Center there is no charge to guests. The Morrison House is operated entirely through donations and is owned by the Salina Regional Health Foundation.

Tours of the Morrison House and additional information can be obtained by calling Linda Tysen, manager, at (785) 452-7500.
